Kathleen Littleton, J.D., M.T.S., is first and foremost, a wife and mother of fourteen children. She has a Masters in Theological Studies, and her Juris Doctorate Degree in Law. She gave up her career as an attorney to become a stay-at-home mother when her first child was born. After a lifetime of enjoying researching, purchasing, stitching and designing antique reproduction needlework, in 2005 Cross Stitch Antiques was founded. Her work has traveled to museums and art galleries throughout the United States.

Seashell Sampler - Jane Price 1819 - reproduction by Kathleen Littleton - We are honored to have Kathleen join us this fall for our Cape Cod stitching retreat. This unpublished reproduction sampler is simply stunning! The original, an early 19th century linen and silk work sampler includes an upper section floral band done in a long stitch, center verse, a lower section with an expanse of greenery and cluster of shells, the entire piece is surrounded by a narrow geometric border. Original piece measures 13 1/4" x 17 3/4"

Tristan Brooks

Cranberry Gathering Necessaire by Barbara Jackson - Who says everything needs to be supersized? This petite necessaire will hold all your stitching basics so you can pop it in a basket and off you go. There is room on the inside for a small pair of scissors, rings for extra silk and an area for your needles. Decorated with cranberry motifs so beloved by the New England stitcher, this little purse is created on 36 cream linen with silk threads. The cream edging is formed with double backstitching which creates a decorative but simple fold line. Closing the purse is a cinch: simply wind the long cords around the middle! The necessaire is a little over 3" across and 6" opened with fold up pocket in place. A simple but useful object your foremothers would have loved!

Class price $155 - you must register for the retreat in order to take this class

Old Colonial Designs

Miniature Blanket Sampler Box by Pam Reed - This piece was inspired by a sampler found in a blanket chest in the attic of a dear friend. The original sampler was stitched by E. Thomas at the age of 9. My adaptation of this sampler encompasses a series of motifs, borders and specialty stitches pulled from the original, as well as the added verse "stitched by me with golden needles". We will personalize this miniature of the sampler by using the alphabet in threads to match the sawtooth satin stitch border. Piece will be worked on 36ct linen over 1 and 2 threads. The completed miniature sampler measures approximately 6 1/2" wide and rolls to fit inside the miniature blanket chest included with your kit.

About Ocean Edge Resort and Brewster, Massachusetts

Brewster, Massachusetts, is a quaint coastal town on Cape Cod rich in history. Settled in 1656, it's home to public beaches along Cape Cod Bay, parks, historic structures including the Stony Brook Grist Mill and Old Higgins Farm Windmill, unique shops, and culinary talent.

Ocean Edge Resort & Golf Club is an upscale hotel, located on Cape Cod Bay. Offering spa services, several dining options and two distinct areas of stay. The Mansion, a Victorian-style building that's listed on the National Register of Historic Places, and The Villages, a collection of cozy villas. The 48 acre property at Ocean Edge was originally established in 1890 by Samuel Mayo Nickerson, a descendant of Cape Cod's puritan settlers for his family naming it Fieldstone Hall. It was the hub of Brewster's social scene for over 15 years until, in 1906, it mysteriously burnt down. In 1907 they begin to build a new home on the original foundation with it's completion in 1912. In 1945 it is sold and turned into a Seminary for 35 years until the 1980's when it is purchased by a developer and Ocean Edge is born. Since then Ocean Edge has been featured in several magazines and most recently on NESN, NBC and Phantom Gourmet
